TRAVEL AGENTS ARE ECONOMIC DRIVERS

Travel agents – online, “brick and mortar” and many hybrid business models in between – play a critical role in the broader travel and tourism industry.

In 2015, travel agents processed 155 million trips representing $148 billion of total travel sales.

Agencies are responsible for the sale of the majority of airline tickets in the U.S., selling over 430,000 air tickets daily.

More than 25 percent of U.S. travelers reported using a leisure or corporate travel agent in 2015.

Travel agencies are predominantly small businesses, with 70 percent employing fewer than 5 people.

TRAVEL AGENTS ARE IN YOUR COMMUNITY

The travel agency industry in the United States is a vital part of the transportation infrastructure. While the physical elements of travel include planes, trains, cars, hotels, cruises and tours, it is the travel agent that makes it all happen.

Travel agents vary in size from the smallest home-based agent to storefront agencies in every state and Congressional district to the large travel management companies such as Carlson Wagonlit and household-name online agencies like Expedia. Together, they account for an annual payroll output of $5.5B and annual revenues of $17.7B.

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF TRAVEL AGENTS

The American Society of Travel Agents (ASTA) was established in 1931 and is the leading professional travel trade organization in the world. Our current membership consists of about 2,600 domestic travel agency and allied travel companies employing nearly 30,000 people, as well as over 750 international member companies. Our mission is to facilitate the business of selling travel through effective representation, shared knowledge and the enhancement of professionalism.
